Summary of Major Sections

Introduction. A short overview to help you better understand and use the book. Starts on page 1.

Part I. Your Personality and Your Major. Provides an overview of personality and of personality types. This section also explores the relationship between personality and college majors. Starts on page 13.

Part II. What's Your Personality Type? Take An Assessment. Helps you discover your personality type with a short, easy-to-complete assessment. Starts on page 17.

Part III. The Best Majors Lists. Very useful for exploring college majors! Lists are arranged into easy-to-use groups based on personality types. The first group of lists presents the 10 best majors for each personality type. Other lists identify, for each personality type, majors linked to jobs with the highest earnings, the fastest job growth, and the most job openings. More-specialized lists follow, ranking majors related to jobs by education level, majors linked to best jobs by worker demographics, and majors that prepare for jobs requiring either high or low math and verbal skills. The column starting at right presents all the list titles. Starts on page 27.

Part IV. Descriptions of the Best College Majors for Your Personality. Provides complete descriptions of the majors that appear on the lists in Part III, plus five related majors. Each description contains information on specializations and college and high school courses, plus definitions and key facts for related jobs. Starts on page 79.
