

COGNITION

HOW DO WE LEARN THINGS ?

How do we remember?

How do we solve problems?

How do we communicate?

© 2009 South-Western Publishing Company • 1000 Jefferson Boulevard, Columbus, OH 43260 • www.cengage.com

EXPERIMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY

How is psychological research conducted?

What issues must psychology researchers consider?

© 2009 South-Western Publishing Company • 1000 Jefferson Boulevard, Columbus, OH 43260 • www.cengage.com

ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY

What is the difference between "normal" and "abnormal behavior"?

What are the major types of mental disorders, and how can they be treated?

© 2009 South-Western Publishing Company • 1000 Jefferson Boulevard, Columbus, OH 43260 • www.cengage.com

DEVELOPMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY

How do "nature" and "nurture" influence our development from birth until death?

© 2009 South-Western Publishing Company • 1000 Jefferson Boulevard, Columbus, OH 43260 • www.cengage.com

MOTIVATION & EMOTION

What are the basic drives that shape our behavior?

How do these drives influence the way we perceive and think about things?

© 2009 South-Western Publishing Company • 1000 Jefferson Boulevard, Columbus, OH 43260 • www.cengage.com

PERSONALITY

What is personality?

Intelligence

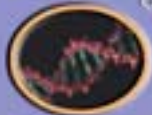

Creativity

How do these things make every person unique?

© 2009 South-Western Publishing Company • 1000 Jefferson Boulevard, Columbus, OH 43260 • www.cengage.com

PSYCHOLOGY APPROACHES

What are the ways in which we can study how and why people behave as they do?

BIOLOGICAL

BEHAVIORAL

COGNITIVE

PSYCHODYNAMICS

HUMANISTIC

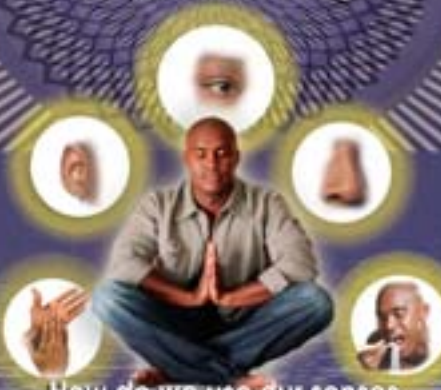

SOCIOCULTURAL

© 2004 South-Western, a division of Thomson Learning, Cincinnati, OH 45202 • www.cengage.com

SENSATION AND PERCEPTION

What factors influence the way we perceive things?

How do we use our senses to gather information about our environment?

© 2004 South-Western, a division of Thomson Learning, Cincinnati, OH 45202 • www.cengage.com

SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY

Do people behave differently when they are part of a group?

How can the ways in which we categorize people affect behavior?

© 2004 South-Western, a division of Thomson Learning, Cincinnati, OH 45202 • www.cengage.com

STATES OF CONSCIOUSNESS

Why do we sleep?

Why do we dream?

What is hypnosis?

How can drugs affect perception and behavior?

© 2004 South-Western, a division of Thomson Learning, Cincinnati, OH 45202 • www.cengage.com

BIOLOGICAL FACTORS THAT INFLUENCE BEHAVIOR

How does the brain process information?

How does the body adapt to the demands of its environment?

© 2004 South-Western, a division of Thomson Learning, Cincinnati, OH 45202 • www.cengage.com